A 24-hour read of what you hold, what it's worth, and the trips it's quietly funding.

EXAMPLE

Sample figures, checked November 28, 2026. The travelers are invented.

01 325,000 bank points are worth $4,875 at 1.5¢, $3,900 at 1.2¢ and $5,850 at 1.8¢.

02 Tokyo and Kyoto, eight nights, on ANA: 210,000 Virgin Atlantic points against $7,582 cash — $4,432 less than cash at 1.5¢, with 115,000 left.

03 Don't spend 400,000 Atmos on Alaska's own Seattle–Narita nonstop. At 1.5¢, 200,000 points each way costs about what the cash fare does.

Trip design is free when the hotel is booked through us. Points-only planning is $195.
